

Care About Childcare

Free Career Ladder Online Training!

This course is approved for 4 hours of online Career Ladder credit for levels 2-3 and 5-8 and also counts for Annual Professional Development Award hours.

Sesame Street professional development is currently hosting a FREE online course: Make Believe with Math.

All early childhood educators are invited to join the Sesame Street friends in this interactive course exploring math and pretend play, ways babies and toddlers build a foundation for math, key math objectives for children ages 2–5, strategies to create more learning moments, and fun, ready-to-use activities.

To register go to <http://www.sesamestreetincommunities.org/makebelievewithmath> and click the blue “Register” rectangle.

Course dates: now through August 11, 2017 or October 2, 2017 to January 12, 2018 (course is completed at providers’ convenience anytime during the window between course dates).

The course also offers eight (8) new resource PDFs to support course ideas, which include:

- Math Talk (Math Language Glossary)
- Children’s Math Development

- Math Activity Ideas
- Measuring With Tubes (family activity)
- Development of Play: Age by Age
- A Math and Pretend Play Planning Chart
- Baby and Toddler Math and Cognitive Skills Development Chart
- Math is Everywhere for Babies and Toddlers: Cognitive Skills in School and at Home

We hope you take advantage of this professional development opportunity!
